Blog is made to document findings against "Dirtpileofworms"
Blog is in no way meant to be a source of harassment and does not condone such.

I am simply here to post my findings. That is all.

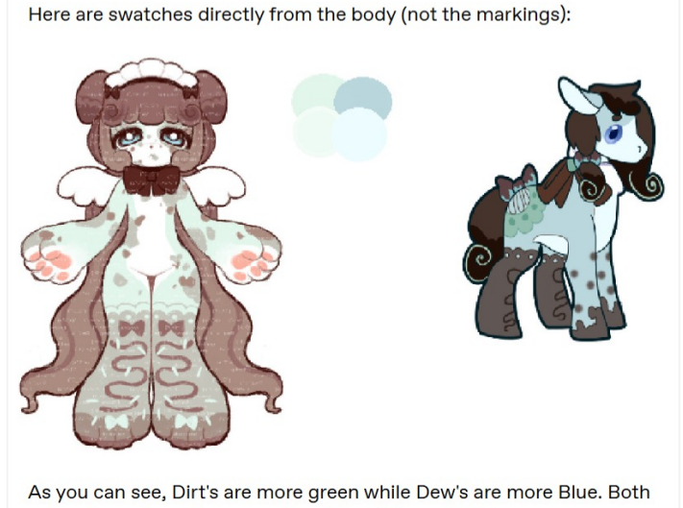
17/12/2025 (Color Matching PT2)

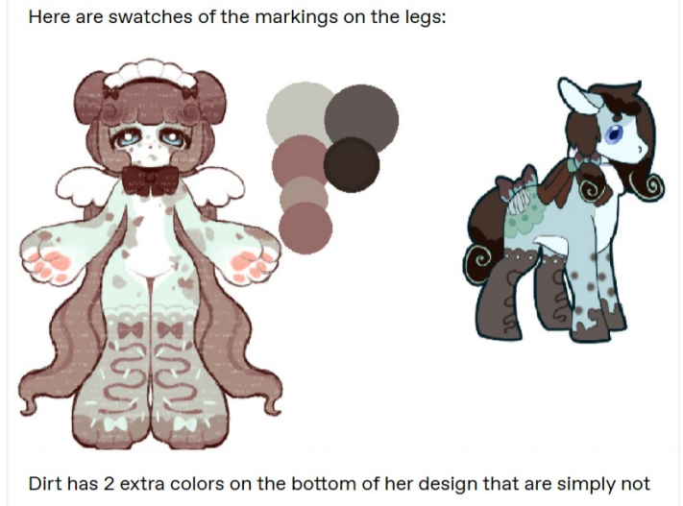
Since Dirt wanted to whine about me "color picking from a filter" I decided to make a part 2.

Here are swatches directly from the body (not the markings):



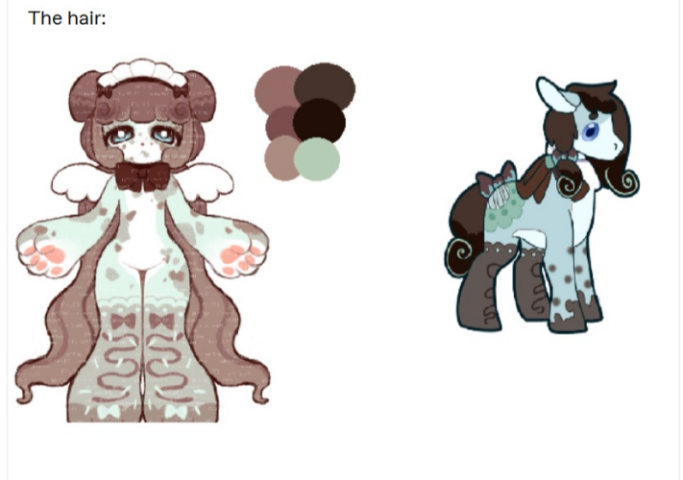
As you can see, Dirt's are more green while Dew's are more Blue. Both colors do not match, even without the filter on Dirt's.

Here are swatches of the markings on the legs:

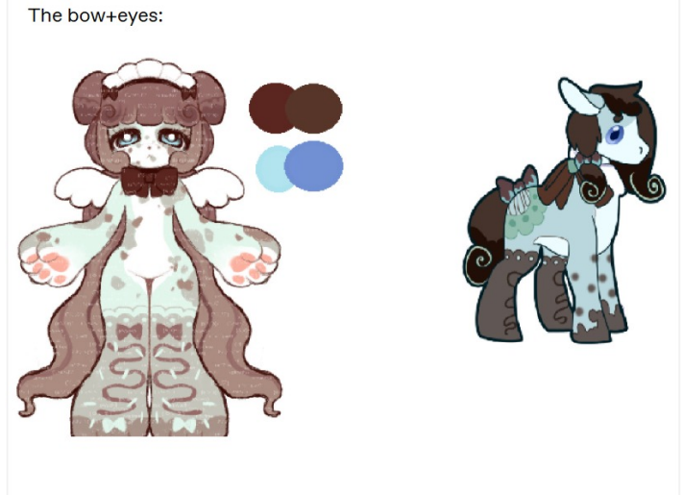


Dirt has 2 extra colors on the bottom of her design that are simply not present inside of Dew's design. I still placed them on Dirt's side of the color swatches just to make sure I had everything covered.

The hair:



The bow+eyes:



Extra notes:
The design presented to me shows clear differences which were not present originally. These are:
-White markings on the paws which aren't present in Dew's design.
-Extra dots and markings on the face in Dirt's design.
-Extra markings and a secondary set of bow's on Dirt's design that again, is not present in Dewdrop's design.
-A whole set of wings are present in Dirt's which are not present in Dewdrops. (Theirs is an earth pony)
-Dirt's has extra markings above the stockings which aren't present in dew's.

These two designs share similar motif's (Mint choc chip) and both share the same leg markings yet are complete separate designs. Dirt is acting out over a design that is not colorpicked or stolen from her.

Thanks. Now I can actually know what they're trying to tell me since instead of sending me pics Dirt just went "USE MY UNFILTERED!! U KNOW WHERE THEY ARE CUZ U STALK ME" like a psycho bitch not stolen, but definitely color picked and referenced from Dew has asked dirt too many times to N O T reference from them. Despicable.

color picked
apple socks with bow
colored tips of hair
apple core with seeds on thighs
apple core colored stomach patch same color gradient in eye (also color picked)

November 21st Dewdrop can be seen posting "mystery moodboard adoptables":

Keep track of the one on the top right. Because December 10th Dirt went out of her way to find a similar moodboard to Dewdrop's to make an "alien kitty adopt":

Hello! As these designs have recen[…]esign them and wished to give you the redesign!

Reply

December 1st and six days ago (December 11th) Dewdrop officially gave out designs (and redesigns) for their concepts, because of Dirt allegedly stealing. It is only after Dew's secondary design that Dirt decided to make her "alien kitty" adoptable.

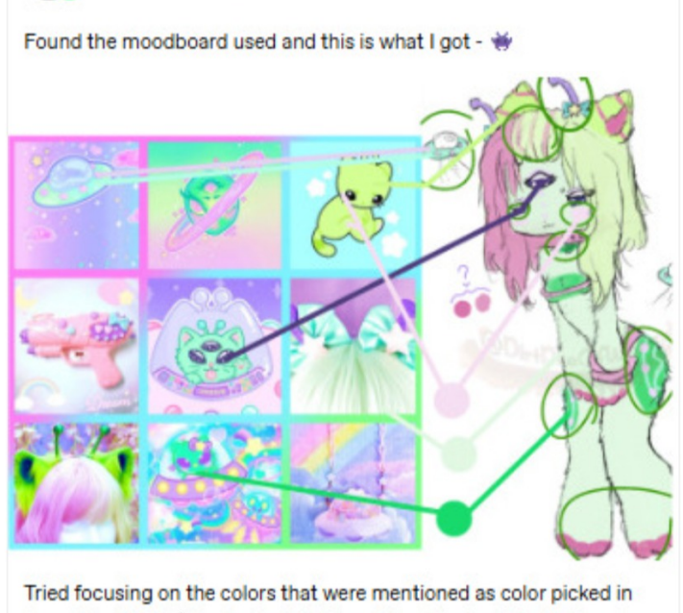
This kitty adoptable has a lot of the same key designpoints that the redesign does, including the butt marking. It seemingly merges both the old and redesign together into a furry design. As @adriennetheedge pointed out:

adriennetheedge

Found the moodboard used and this is what I got -



Tried focusing on the colors that were mentioned as color picked in the original post (idk why I added the ship colors but whatever) and there were just two shades of pink i couldn't really match to the moodboard. Granted, my goofy ass has mild colorblindness so im not exactly sure if those two pink shades are even present in the moodboard or not. But yeah, those are my findings atm -

Most of the colors you can find are directly picked from the moodboard in question, yet three colors are missing that are present in dirt's design, these colors can directly be picked from Dew's design as pointed out by @dirtpiledefender. This, plus the knowledge that Dirt has admitted to looking at Dew's account, shows that Dirt might have colorpicked from Dew and been heavily referencing their design choices while making this alien adoptable.

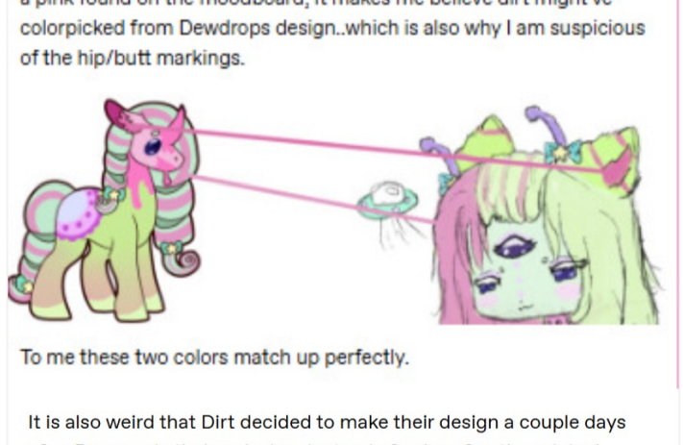
I see! Thankyou for clearing this up! I couldn't really find those two pinks either inside of the moodboard I however do find it weird how Dirt's design has a butt mark the same as Dewdrops. I am not claiming Dirt has stolen. I am just trying to give both POV's as I don't like being biased.

My other issue is when I tried to colorpick to find the colors... I found the hair of dirt's is picked directly from the hair of Dewdrops'. Could be a coincidence, but considering you could not match that exact pink to a pink found on the moodboard, it makes me believe dirt might've colorpicked from Dewdrops design..which is also why I am suspicious of the hip/butt markings.



To me these two colors match up perfectly.

It is also weird that Dirt decided to make their design a couple days after Dew made their redesign, instead of a day after the original design was thought about.
(December 10th was when Dirt conceptualized the design in question)
(December 11th is when Dew made the redesign)
(December 13th is when Dirt made the design)

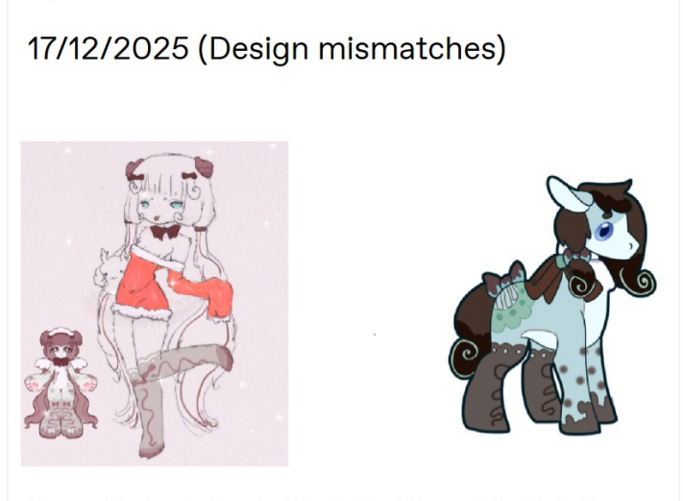
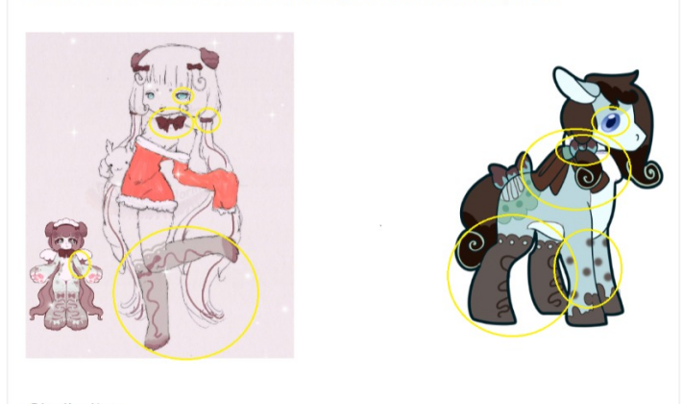
17/12/2025 (Design mismatches)



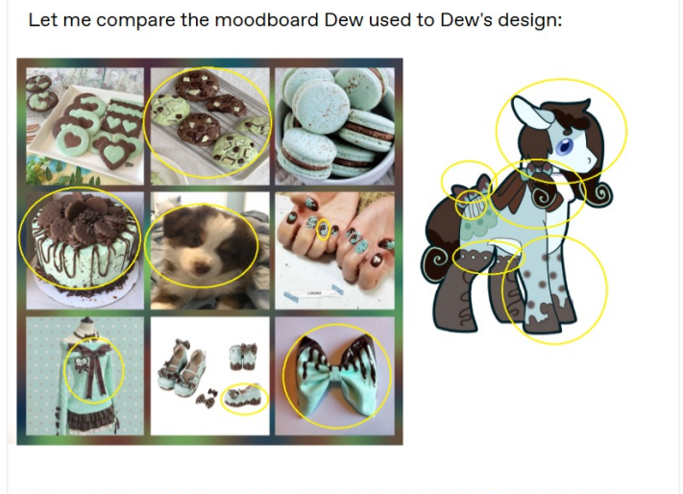
Here are the two designs. I will be first pointing out the Similarity which can be found with each design. This is done in yellow



Similarity:
-Both include a similar type of leg design
-Both include big bows on the neck
-Both has a hue of blue for the eyes
-Both include some kind of object to tie the hair up.

Differences:
-Different pallet
-Dew's leg design has different markings (No secondary bumpy line, no gradient on bottom, no little bow).
-Dew's hairstyle is different to Dirt's.
-Different hue of blues for the eyes.
-The bows found on the necks are different. Dew's is bigger, droopier and has 2 different colors compared to Dirt's smaller singular color design.
-Dew's has a butt marking that isn't found in dirt's.
-Different bow styles.
-Different species.

Let me compare the moodboard Dew used to Dew's design:



-The markings on the puppy matches the markings on Dew's design.
-The "dots" (chocolate) on the cookies links to the dots and "crumble" looking style found on the front hooves.
-The butt marking+marking on the stockings is similar to the design found on the bottom of the shoes (bottom middle of the moodboard.
-The "big bow" can be found directly on the sweater (bottom left) which shares an almost identical look to the one in Dew's design.
-Bottom right bow (smaller bow with drips) is identical to the ones found in Dew's design.
-Some of the nail design (dots and drips) could also be references to the dots and drips found around dew's design, especially the butt marking.

In short:
I believe if dirt was uncomfortable with this design, it should have been bought up to Dewdrop themselves instead of going on a tirade of harassing an autistic person that had adopted the design. It was not okay behaviour for Dirt to stalk Dew like this nor was it okay for Dirt to try and find people to speak to the person that had adopted from Dewdrop just because of a similar design in the legs. Both of them are very clearly similar, yes, but it is clear Dew heavily relied on their moodboard to make designs rather than Dirt's design and Dirt jumped the gun and went straight to harassing those involved with Dew instead of taking a step back to understand that a design might be similar without it being stolen.

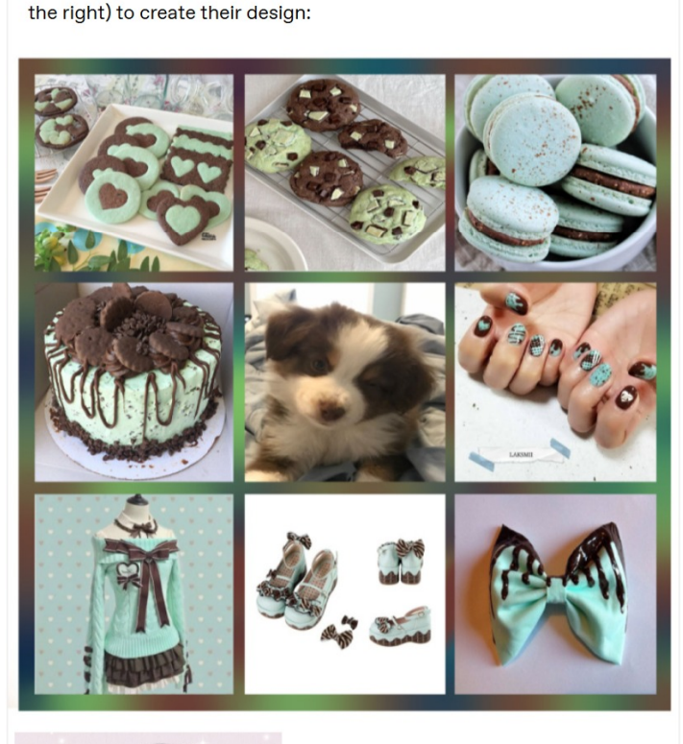
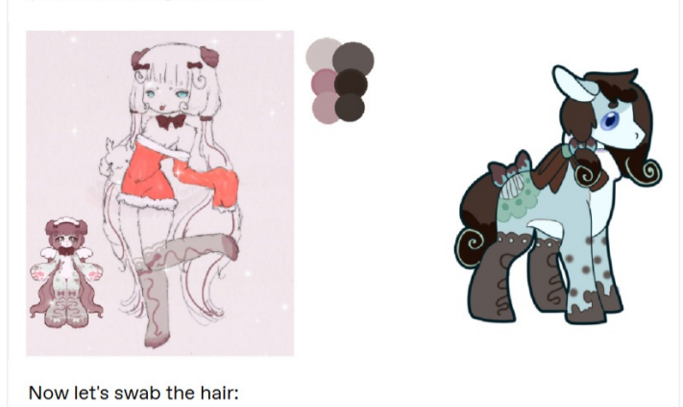
17/12/2025 (Evidence of design not matching up in color)

So when we last left off, we had two designs which had similar markings but did not really look identical enough to be classed as stolen.

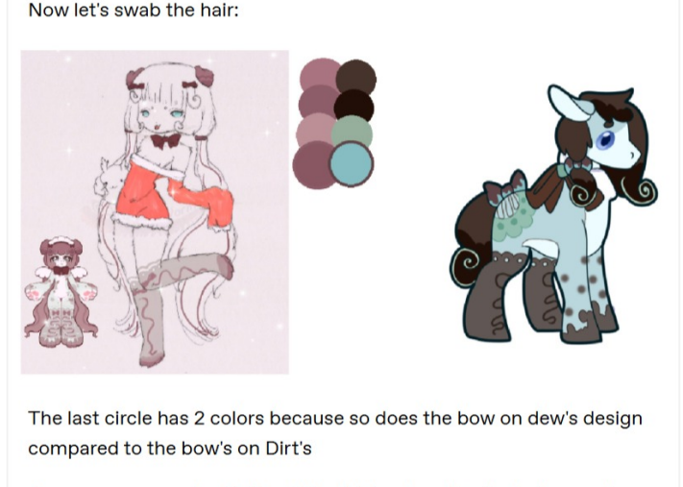
Before we start, and to make anyone reading aware, this is the moodboard which was referenced by Dewdropadoptables (Design on the right) to create their design:



I just colorpicked the leg design, which is what I believe dirt is using to claim this is stolen, and got these colors:
(Left is Kona, right is Dew)



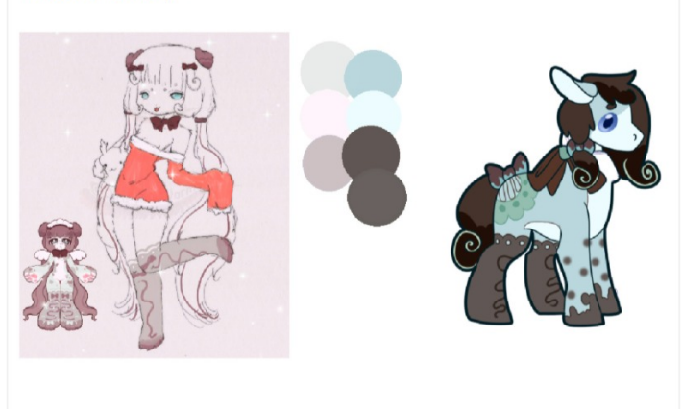
Now let's swab the hair:



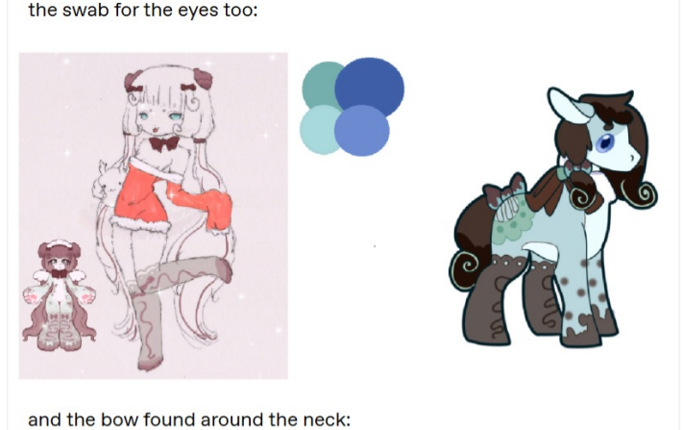
The last circle has 2 colors because so does the bow on dew's design compared to the bow's on Dirt's

As you can see, colorpicking did not take place for the hair as well.

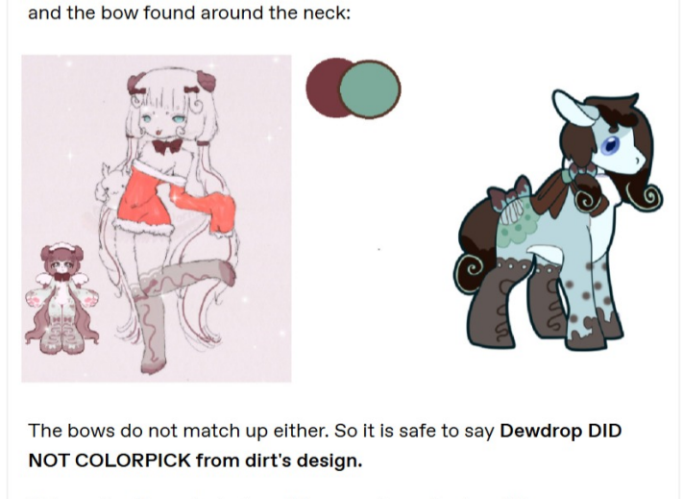
Here is the body:



I took a color from the line around the stomach but it cannot be found in dirt's design, so I did not attempt to match it. Here you can also see, while color types are similar (Lights, darks, greys) they are again different colors. Showing it was not colorpicked. The eyes are also two different shades of blue but just encase anyone was curious, here is the swab for the eyes too:



and the bow found around the neck:



The bows do not match up either. So it is safe to say Dewdrop DID NOT COLORPICK from dirt's design.

I'll be going through design differences here: Design differences

DEWDROP'S DESIGN:
Note: I had to dig through a lot of comments to find this which shows that Kona and Fritter are digging through Dewdrop's comment section. This does not surprise me, as Dirt has admitted to stalking Dewdrop previously and claimed she "has a right to do so".

Thanks for proving you use an alt to look at Dew's page, stalker.

I use Google chrome, a browser, and yes I look at it because he is my abuser. I'm allowed to check on someone who harasses me lol

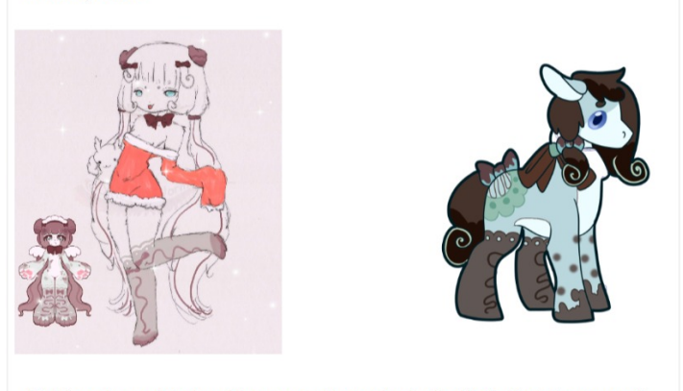
Side by side:



Putting them side by side proves the only similarity is that they are of the same theme and include the same leg markings. Everything else is different. Enough that I argue this isn't stolen.

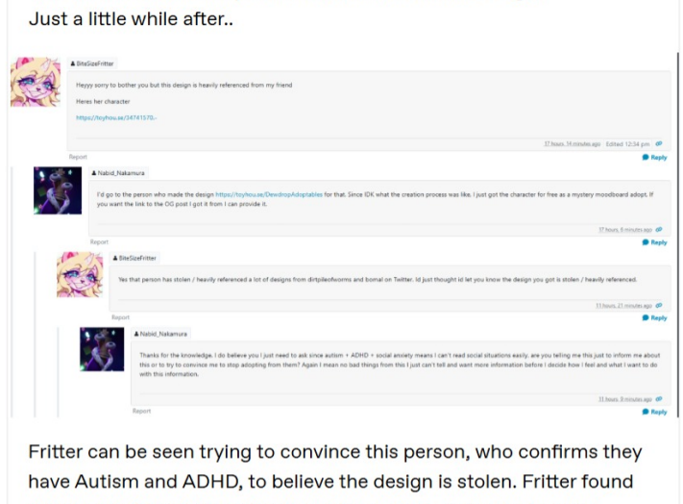
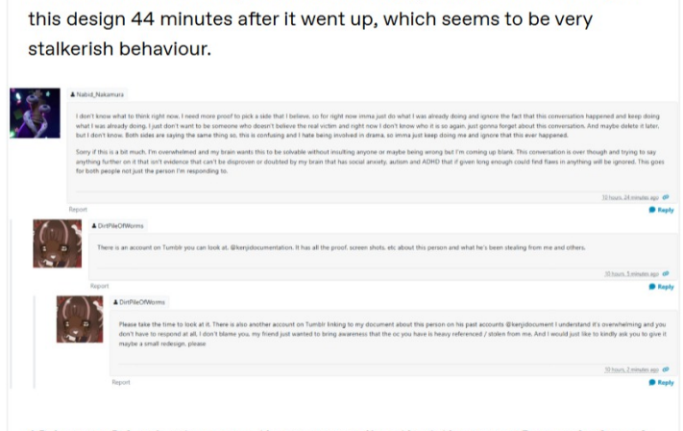
Just a little while after..



Fritter can be seen trying to convince this person, who confirms they have Autism and ADHD, to believe the design is stolen. Fritter found this design 44 minutes after it went up, which seems to be very stalkerish behaviour.



10 hours 24 minutes ago, the user replies that they are Overwhelmed, Overstimulated and do not know what to do. They wish to be left alone and would kindly appreciate both sides leave them be.

10 hours and 2 minutes ago, AFTER the user claimed to be "overwhelmed and overstimulated" Dirt found their page and berated them with more information, claiming that Dewdrop was Kenji and pushing them to look at more information, even after the user claimed to be overwhelmed and overstimulated with the flow of information and did not know which side to trust.

Dirtpileofworms went out of their way to give more information to an auadhd person after they explained they were overwhelmed and wished to be left alone, which is not okay behaviour. After she said this, she decided to play the victim and claim SHE was the one being "harassed by 2 different people" on her social media.

Being targeted, threatened, having my oc's stolen, by 2 different people at the same time is insane and it sucks, I might just leave again after comms idk essentially, spinning the narrative to make herself look like the victim. Again.
